Digital Teaching and Learning

An Inside Higher Ed webcast

June 9, 2022

2 p.m. Eastern

Presenters

- Scott Jaschik, editor, Inside Higher Ed, scott.jaschik@insidehighered.com

- Doug Lederman, editor, Inside Higher Ed, doug.lederman@insidehighered.com

The Agenda

- Digital tools for teaching
- Digital tools for closing equity gaps
- How faculty feel about digital teaching and learning
- Special needs of community colleges

INSIDE HIGHER ED

Courseware to Close Equity Gaps

--Bet_Noire/istock/Getty Images Plus

Time to Rethink AI Proctoring?

--Smith Collection / Getty Images

The Power of Positive Thinking

Faculty members who saw the shift to online learning during the pandemic as an opportunity:

--Were less likely to feel burned out.

--Received better ratings.

INSIDE HIGHER ED

Helping Students With Disabilities

--University of Kentucky

Community Colleges Share Courses Online

'The Year of Stackability'

--Getty Images

Winning at Technology, Offense and Defense

- Opportunism?
- The public interest?

Opening the Black Boxes of Testing

--Getty Images

Who Is Struggling With Online Learning? How Can You Help?

- Acknowledge the dual learning taking place: the content and ed tech.

- Ask students about their prior experiences with ed tech on the first day of class.

- Know that the digital tools you require depend on technology.

Q&A

- Your questions
- Your ideas for future coverage

With Thanks ….